Interprofessional learning, collaborative practice and integrated care are now at the forefront of healthcare policy makers' priorities. However these policy priorities come with limited guidance supporting their practical realisation. New methods and approaches that scale the chasm between interprofessional aspiration and service reality are called for.

This conference will provide a forum that prioritises deliberations over presentations. Our principal aim is to take on the question of how to realise interprofessionalism and interprofessional learning in ways that impact on how care happens: what kinds of interprofessional learning and working are needed to tackle the increasingly complex circumstances that define the real world of care provision?

You are invited to submit an abstract outlining a current or recent piece of research. If it is accepted you will be asked to submit a video presentation in advance of the conference. At the conference presentations will be discussed in groups loosely organised around the conference themes and any additional themes emerging from submissions.

The conference themes are:

- Innovations in interprofessional education
- Educating teams for patient safety
- Complexity: consequences for interprofessional working and learning
- New healthcare roles: teaching and integrating new professionals
